Suit for divorce, based on the allegation of desertion since arrival in America, was filed Friday morning by Mrs. Sophie Robe against her husband, George Robe, who she says now lives in Chicago.

She says that she and Robe were married in Germany June 15, 1894, and that they started for America July 15, 1897. She charges that since her arrival in this country in August, 1897, her husband has deserted her, and that she has supported herself and their son, Alfred, who is now 15 years old.

MUNYON'S PAW-PAW

Cured a Bright Young Man of the DRINK HABIT.

DRUNKENNESS, NERVOUSNESS AND SLEEPLESSNESS CAUSED BY

DYSPEPSIA

Munyon's Paw-Paw Positively Cures
All Stomach Ailments.

A mother writing to Professor Munyon from a near-by city says: "My son, through bad associations, became addicted to strong drink and we had almost despaired of saving him from a drunkard's grave. His stomach and nerves had become totally wrecked. Two weeks ago my sister, who lives in Chicago, sent me a bottle of Paw-Paw for my son, and strange to say, it not only cured his stomach trouble, but has taken away all desire for alcoholic drinks. He has gained 11 pounds in flesh and now eats well and sleeps well. May God bless you for giving the world this wonderful medicine."

Surely this mother has reason to feel grateful, and it is my opinion, previously expressed, that the clergymen in this country could do no greater service to the cause of temperance than to advocate the general use of my Paw-Paw, for by its use drunkenness would be lessened and the morals and health of the community greatly improved.

A wife whose husband is addicted to drinking can do nothing better for herself or family than to get a bottle of this Paw-Paw, and whenever her husband feels the need of a tonic give him a teaspoonful of Paw-Paw. She will find that he will soon lose all cravings for strong drinks—that his nervousness and longing for excitement will disappear and he will be perfectly satisfied without alcoholic stimulants and harmful beverages.

Almost every human being sometime requires a stimulant, NOT AN ALCOHOLIC STIMULANT, not a stimulant that will buoy up for a moment and then cast down to lower depths of depression, but a stimulant that will give an aiding strength and lasting force.

My Paw-Paw aids the stomach to digest hearty foods and to make good, rich blood, which again in turn strengthens the nerves, vitalizing all the tissues, and soon produces muscles, tissues and bone.

MUNYON.
Paw-Paw does away with the desire for strong drink by satisfying and strengthening the stomach and nerves. It gives exhilaration without intoxication.
Paw-Paw gives you a good appetite and secures for the body every benefit which food is designed to bring.
Take home a bottle with you today, and if that home bottle does not cure your stomach, a set of disordered nerves, a vain seeker after sleep, Paw-Paw will bring quick relief and more recruits will be gained for Munyon's great and growing army of the cured (large bottles), price $1.00. Paw-Paw Pills, 25 cents per box. At all druggists.

LEE'S TESTIMONY MAY CONVICT

power people as an attorney. Stone evidently objected to having his clients skinned.

The most likely explanation of the $700 which Lee wrote to Kelley is that the criminal jurisprudence committee, the attorney declared, "was that Kelley got this money and gave it to Lee in order to cheat his employer."

Mr. Pope argued that John A. Lee could not be believed, because twice he admitted that he had perjured himself. That after causing Senator Matthews to be indicted, he afterward admitted that Matthews was not the man to whom he paid $400 at the Laclede Hotel, and subsequently tried to smirch the character of Senator Frank P. Corbell.

Mr. Pope finished at 11 o'clock, when Judge Graves ordered a brief recess.

Mrs. Farris took a place inside the railing and directly behind her husband, who watched the jury throughout the progress of the arguments. Judge Graves allowed the attorneys unlimited time.

When court reconvened at 11:30 Attorney James T. Moore of Lebanon spoke for the defendant. He began by saying that he had known Frank Farris since he was a boy, and not until this charge of bribery was brought against him did he hear anything derogatory of his character. He summed up the indictment, which he said charged the defendant with having entered into a conspiracy with Lee and D. J. Kelley, Kelley whom at the time he never knew. He dwelt at length on the fact that Lee on two occasions solemnly swore he knew nothing of legislative matters. He attributed Lee's story to the alleged fact that Lee had opposed Senator Farris for father, Capt. John W. Farris, for the nomination for lieutenant-governor.

The Important
Feature of Defense.

Attorney Moore, for the defense, finished his argument at 12:30, when court took a recess until 2 o'clock. After the recess Attorney Morton L. Jourdan made the closing speech for Farris, and Gen. Crow concluded the state's presentation.

The burden of the argument of the defense was to show that Lee's motive in accusing Senator Farris was to save himself from indictment; that Lee and Kelley had transactions whereby Lee kept $200 for himself, and did not, though he may have intended to or represented that he would, distribute the $700 among the members of the criminal jurisprudence committee, who protected the interests of the baking powder trust.

FIXING THE AUTHENTICITY OF THE $700 LETTER WRITTEN TO KELLEY.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Nov. 6.—The fifth and probably the concluding day of the Farris bribery trial drew only a small crowd to the courtroom, but the presence of several women, among them the wives of Senators Smith and Farris, added a touch of color to the scene.

Some of his friends have discussed the advisability of Senator Farris making the closing speech in his own behalf. The suggestion, however, has not met with favor from the defendant's counsel.

The jurors looked tired and worn from the long siege, though they seemed to retain unflinching interest in this, the most famous instance of legislative rottenness ever disclosed in Missouri.

When the sheriff rapped for order Attorney-General Crow began the introduction of testimony in rebuttal for the state, the first witness placed on the stand being Patterson Bahr, baking powder manufacturer.

Mr. Bahr in response to a question from the attorney-general stated that on March 19, 1901, he visited the law office of Senator Charles A. Smith in St. Louis.

"I was kept waiting in the anteroom, and when I saw Smith he suddenly vanished. Later I saw him at the Laclede Hotel."

March 19 is the day on which witnesses for defense asserted Smith was ill at his home.

The question as to whether the alum baking powder manufacturers expended any money for legislative purposes at the 1901 session developed a lively argument between the attorneys.

Mr. Jeffries stated the purpose of the question was to refute the charge made in the criminal jurisprudence committee report that $100,000 had been used by the alum manufacturers. Objection was finally overruled and witness answered:

"There was not a dollar used, to my knowledge, by the alum baking powder manufacturers."

John A. Lee followed Mr. Bahr on the witness stand.

"Where is D. J. Kelley?" Mr. Lee was asked.

"In Canada," he replied.

Witness was then shown the letter dated March 2, 1902, in which Lee stated that he had paid back $700 to Kelley.

"If you write that letter?" asked the attorney general.

"I did not," he answered. Lee's assertion that the famous $700 letter was not in his handwriting, was unshaken on cross examination.

Lee was on the stand only a few minutes. He did not appear nervous, but his face was haggard and pinched, and his whole demeanor was that of a man who had borne up under a terrible strain.

When Lee finished at 9:35 the state announced that its case was closed.

The defense called for Stenographer Charles Cosgrove, who has taken down the official proceedings of the trial. Cosgrove was asked if his transcript showed that when he first testified John A. Lee had admitted writing the $700 letter. Cosgrove read what purported to be Lee's affirmative answer to the question.

The state objected, urging that Lee had denied this and the stenographer might be mistaken, but Cosgrove's testimony was held to be competent. Crow then asked Cosgrove if he had not gotten mixed up regarding other letters introduced as exhibits. This Cosgrove admitted.

Testing closed with Cosgrove's statement and Judge Graves proceeded to read the instructions to the jury.

Attorney-General Crow called the court's attention to a slight omission in the instructions as a recess of 15 minutes was taken to rectify it.

The impression of several persons who heard him testify is positive that Lee, during cross-examination by the defense, did not acknowledge writing the $700 letter which has played such an important part in the trial. There were many letters offered, but this one attracted particular attention.

STONE'S NAME IN THE LETTERS THAT LEE WROTE TO KELLEY

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Nov. 6.—When the defense rested at 3:30 o'clock yesterday evening the fate of Senator Frank Farris on trial for bribery was practically in the hands of the jury.

From the start the case was keenly fought though singularly free of controversy between opposing counsel.

During the closing hours, Judge Graves, who is as democratic as he looks, permitted the attorneys and laymen to smoke, much to the disgust of Sheriff Smith, who said he was not in the habit of tolerating such informality.

Both the prosecution and the defense agree that Judge Graves' decisions on the various legal points which came before him were of great value.

The jury, The introduction of a letter which it is claimed that Lee wrote to Kelley in which he said that he returned the $700 that he (Kelley) had given him (Lee), is believed to be the strongest feature urged by the defense. This communication, published in Thursday's Post-Dispatch, is dated March 19, 1901, the day on which Lee says he distributed the booze fund at the Laclede Hotel, St. Louis.

Lee denied the authenticity of that letter and practically declared it to be a forgery. If this is true D. J. Kelley may have to answer to the charge of forgery, which is an extraditable offense.

Testimony, however, went to show that the handwriting was that of Lee's, and the signature of the ex-lieutenant-governor was also identified.

The defense also occupied the closing hours in producing testimony commensurate with the importance of the correspondence.

Those who vouched for the senator's integrity and general standing included W. R. Taft, sheriff of Crawford County; A. H. Hanson, prosecuting attorney; Crawford County, J. M. Easton, Steelville, Mo., and Judge R. A. Holt, R. D. Walkinsaw, J. D. Laney, Callaway, Mo.

Attorney-General Crow stated to the Post-Dispatch that he attached little importance to the letter correspondence, part of which was presented to discredit the ex-lieutenant-governor and exonerate the defendant. He said that he believed that any part of Lee's testimony was contradicted by impartial witnesses.

Morton L. Jourdan declared that the defense had presented a mass of overwhelming evidence to utterly disqualify the former lieutenant-governor's story and establish the innocence of Farris.

The reading of a score of letters, which Lee had written to D. J. Kelley concerning his political ambitions, his standing as a legislator and legislative deals, set the spectators in an uproar, and even the dignified Judge Graves smiled broadly at the scenes of Missouri literature were shown to the jury.

Repeatedly Sheriff Smith rapped for order, but the spectators enjoyed the treat, and his warning went unheeded.

Amusement was written on the faces of many when the letters naming United States Senator William J. Stone were read. These particular communications tended to show that the Missouri senator had acted as the adviser of the "Gum Shoe" legislative session of 1901, when the baking powder legislation was under consideration.

The "gum shoes" of the man who fostered and championed the baking powder industry, became visible when Lee wound up one of his letters with these words: "Stone does not appear to like the idea of my writing you direct, so don't mention it to him."

Stone, it appears, wished to hide the shells of his operations by inducing Lee to cause some members of the legislature to introduce a copy of the "Gum Shoe" pure food law in lieu of the measure then pending before the assembly.

He thought, so Lee seems to infer, that this course would best protect the interests of the baking powder trust, and incidentally the legislative tools of the vast combine in the same breath Lee spoke of "Gum Shoe" activity in the matter, but it seems that Stone was watching the wily railroad lobbyist so closely that the baking powder people were constantly apprised of his movements.

Evidently much alarmed, Mr. Lee would tell Kelley that Phelps had lined up with the Alum Trust and State-School statesman as his authority.

It developed at the trial that Senator Ordway did not write the alum bill report of the criminal jurisprudence committee, of which he was the chairman, and that Lee gave that report to him.

Howell County senator blandly confessed on the witness stand that he had written the report, and that he had given it to Lee.

It has already been charged that D. J. Kelley gave this document to Lee and that Senator Stone originally furnished it to the baking powder representative. Senator Stone has never denied the charge.

Throughout the trial Senator Farris, while manifesting an unvarying interest in the proceedings, did not appear nervous or greatly worried.

Say Au Revoir to Bartholdt.

Congressman Richard Bartholdt was given farewell greetings by the Clinton (Mo.) Roosevelt club at a mass meeting Thursday night in Concordia. The guests were B. G. Farrar, Hermon Stamm and other made addresses.

A TEST EXPERIMENT.

Peculiar Power Possessed by a New Medicine.

Of new discoveries there is no end, but one of the most recent, most remarkable and one which will prove invaluable to thousands of people, is a discovery which it is believed will take the place of all other remedies for the cure of those common and obstinate diseases, dyspepsia and indigestion. This discovery is not a loudly advertised, secret patent medicine, but is a scientific combination of wholesome, perfectly harmless vegetable essences, fruit salts, pure pepsin and bismuth.

These remedies are combined in lozenge form, pleasant to take, and will preserve their good qualities indefinitely, whereas all liquid medicines rapidly lose whatever good qualities they may have as soon as uncorked and exposed to the air.

This preparation is called Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and it is claimed that one of these Tablets or lozenges will digest from 300 to 3000 times its own weight of meat, eggs and other wholesome food. And this claim has been proven by actual experiments in the following manner: A hard-boiled egg cut into small pieces was placed in a bottle containing warm water heated to 98 degrees (or blood heat); one of these Tablets was then placed in the bottle and the proper temperature maintained for three hours and a half, at the end of which time the egg was as completely digested as it would have been in a healthy stomach. This experiment was undertaken to demonstrate that what it would do in the bottle it would also do in the stomach, hence its unquestionable value in the cure of dyspepsia and weak digestion. Very few people are free from some form of indigestion, but scarcely two will have the same symptoms. Some will suffer most from distress after eating, bloating from gas in the stomach and bowels, others have acid dyspepsia or heartburn, others palpitation or headaches, sleeplessness, pains in chest and under shoulder blades, extreme nervousness as in nervous dyspepsia, but they all have the same cause, failure to properly digest what is eaten. The stomach must have rest and assistance, and Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets give it both, by digesting the food for it and in a short time it is restored to its normal condition and vigor. At the same time the Tablets are so harmless that a child can take them with benefit. This new preparation has already made many astonishing cures, as, for instance, the following:

After using only one package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets I have received an immense and unexpected benefit that I wish to express my sincere gratitude. In fact, it has been six months since I took the package and I have not had one particle of distress or difficulty since. And all this in the face of the fact that the best doctors I consulted told me my case was Chronic Dyspepsia and absolutely incurable as I had suffered twenty-five years.

I distributed half a dozen packages among my friends here who are very anxious to try this remedy. Mrs. Sarah A. Skeel.

NAPOLEON-HEAD TO BE BUILT

M. de Ribero Says There Will Be Nothing at Which the French People Can Take Offense.

M. de Ribero, World's Fair concessionaire, says he has not abandoned his plan to erect on "The Pike" a great bust of Napoleon and conduct therein certain entertainment features.

"The Napoleon bust will be the largest in the world," said Mr. de Ribero Friday. It will contain no objectionable features and nothing at which the French people of St. Louis or other persons could take offense.

"On the first floor I will have a classical musical concert, buffet and refreshment room, and pictures reproducing the modes of transportation by sea at the time of Napoleon."

"On the second floor will be a perfect reproduction of the tomb of Napoleon at St. Helena."

THE MONKEY AND THE SWELL

Must They Be Accepted as Alternating Measurements of Human Breeding and Beauty?

"Must the monkey and the swell be accepted as interchangeable types, as alternating measurements of human breeding and beauty?"

It is rather a startling question, but it is soberly asked by one of the leaders of thought who has lately discussed "The Sins of Society."

And he calls society "that apotheosis of boredom, that incarnation of stupidity and affectation."

He is really quite caustic. And there are a number of others who talk to the same general effect.

There will be a page of this sort of candid discussion in the Sunday Post-Dispatch.

STYLISH EQUIPAGE WRECKED IN DITCH

W. C. Uhr's Liveried Coachman Drives Team Into Excavation on Theresa Avenue.

OWNER EAGER TO PROSECUTE

One Horse Will Be Shot and Carriage Is Damaged—Accident Followed Good Time.

"I'll not want the carriage again tonight, so drive home and have the horses stabled," said William C. Uhr, well known stockbroker, residing at 253 South Grand avenue, as he alighted at the Union Club at 8 o'clock Thursday evening. He walked on into the club, not doubting that Julius Meyer, his coachman, would carry out the orders.

It was about 11 o'clock when Mr. Uhr was summoned from the club. Informed of an accident to his team and carriage, the smartest turnout in a stable, he hurried to the scene. Meyer, the coachman, in his trim green livery, immaculate linen and glowing silk tie, was languishing in a cell at the Dayton street police station.

At Theresa and Franklin avenue Mr. Uhr found his wrecked carriage lying in a street excavation four feet deep. His horses had been extricated from the hole by a fire department crew. One of the horses, a handsome animal which Mr. Uhr valued at $500, was so badly injured as to be of no further service. It will be shot.

Mr. Uhr found red dirt signaling danger on a dry side of the excavation, named just as they had been when Meyer drove into the pit. The policeman who arrested the coachman and marched him at the head of a band of jeering followers off to the station, says Meyer showed unmistakable signs of intoxication.

Meyer, while begging not to be placed in the cellroom with a crowd of "common shabby dressed prisoners, explained that he was exercising the greatest possible care when misfortune befell him.

Other persons say that after leaving his master at the club, Meyer set forth to do the town in a manner befitting "a night owl."

Meyer's appeals to Mr. Uhr for aid were unavailing and the man in green went behind the bars.

Early Friday morning Mr. Uhr appeared at the Dayton street station. He was eager for the prosecution of the man who had proven so faithless to him. In court he refused to recognize his former coachman and secured a continuance of the case until Saturday morning, declaring to Judge Pollard that before that time he hoped to place a more serious charge against Meyer than that of "reckless driving" on which the police had held him.

BRUISES MORE THAN WORDS.
Judge Is Readily Convinced of Wife's Story of Cruelty.

The bruised and swollen face of Mrs. John L. Sullivan, the delicate wife of a tall, strong pipefitter who lives at 1600 North Tenth street, had more weight with Judge Tracy in the City Hall police court Friday morning than did Sullivan's denial of her charge that he had beaten her so badly that she was forced to remain in bed for three days. Sullivan was fined $25.

Mrs. Sullivan said she had been the object of her husband's abuse for two years, but that fear for her life forced her to cause his arrest for the beating he gave her Sunday night. Sullivan was arrested late Thursday, and spent the night in the holdover.

Furniture Board Election.
The St. Louis Furniture Board of Trade will elect officers at the regular monthly meeting, to be held Monday night at 110 North Eighth street. The candidates are: President, George T. Parker and W. H. Roscher; first vice-president, George H. Diederich and Jos. Keating; second vice-president, F. L. Kimball and J. B. Retzlack; secretaries, T. T. Lingo and H. S. Tuttle; treasurer, E. L. Lucas; executive committee, Joseph J. Gruender, Joseph Joering, W. E. Frank, E. W. Hanpeter, Alfred Webb, Otto Vornbrock, A. P. Bohlinger, Leo Farrenkopf, John A. Warner, J. A. Hinners, Otto Aude, Ralph McEwen, J. A. Reinmeyer, E. C. Hanpeter and C. J. Kostuba.

New Orphans' Home Officers.
At the annual meeting of the lady managers of the Methodist Orphans' Board Association, the trustees elected were: Samuel Cupples, Jesse Le. Boushler, John J. O'Fallon, John A. Scudder, Richard M. Scruggs, W. M. Sloan and R. M. Nichols. These additions were made to the board of lady managers: Mrs. Walter Bush, Mrs. S. Robinson, Mrs. S. French, Mrs. G. W. Weatherford and Mrs. J. B. Nixon. Reports showed that 26 girls have been sheltered at the home at 483 Maryland avenue and 49 boys at 332 Laclede avenue. The cost of conducting the two institutions for the year was $11,500.

Mrs. Rosa Adams, niece of the late General Roger Hanson, C. S. A., wants every woman to know of the wonders accomplished by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I cannot tell you with pen and ink what good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for me, suffering from the ill effects of the sex, extreme lassitude and that all gone feeling. I would rise from my bed in the morning feeling more tired than when I went to bed, but before I had used two bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, I began to feel the buoyancy of my younger days returning, became regular, could do more work and not feel tired than I had ever been able to do before, so I continued to use it until I was restored to perfect health. It is indeed a boon to sick women and I heartily recommend it. Yours very truly, Mrs. Rosa Adams, 819 12th St., Louisville, Ky."

Any women who are troubled with irregular or painful menstruation, weakness, leucorrhoea, displacement or ulceration of the womb, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation of the ovaries, backache, general debility, and nervous prostration, should know there is one tried and true remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. No other medicine for women has received such wide-spread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine has such a record of female cures.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I am very pleased to recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for women and ovarian difficulties from which I have been a sufferer for years. It was the only medicine which was at all beneficial, and within a week after I started to use it, there was a great change in my feelings and looks. I used it for a little over three months, and at the end of that time I suffered no pain at the menstrual period, nor was I troubled with those distressing pains which compelled me to go to bed, and I have not had a headache since. This is nearly a year ago. I always keep a bottle on hand, and take a few doses every week for I find that it tones up the system and keeps me feeling strong, and I never have that tired out feeling any more. I certainly think that every woman ought to try this grand medicine, for it would prove its worth. Yours very truly, Miss Eliza Danforth, 608 De Soto St., Memphis, Tenn."

BRYAN FAILS TO GET THE $50,000

Court Decides That the Sealed Letter Was Not a Part of Bennett Will.

THE NEBRASKAN MAY APPEAL

The Disposition of $50,000, Under the Decision, Rests With the Executors.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 6.—Decision in the Philo S. Bennett will case, in which William J. Bryan appears both as an executor under the will and a beneficiary, was made by Judge Cleveland in probate court today. The form of the decree will be announced tomorrow when Mr. Bryan will be present.

The court finds that the sealed letter about which there has been contest, providing for a gift of $50,000 to Mr. Bryan and family, was not incorporated in the will.

Copies of the decree were handed to attorneys representing Mrs. Bennett, the widow, and Mr. Bryan. When Judge Cleveland took his seat on the bench an inquiry was made as to Mr. Bryan's whereabouts, and when it was stated that he would be here this afternoon, the judge said he would adjourn court until tomorrow, so that the form of the decree could be announced in Mr. Bryan's presence. Attorneys for Mr. Bryan said they were ready for the decree at this time, but the judge thought an opportunity should be given for further discussion of the case if desired. He then said:

"I find that the question of whether the will was properly executed was not raised, and that the testator had sufficient testamentary capacity. I find that there was no undue influence by Mr. Bryan over Mr. Bennett. It was claimed that the sealed letter should be incorporated in the will. I find that reference in the will was sufficient as to the sealed letter, yet the language in the document itself plainly indicated that the will was executed before that letter was written. There was an existence before the will was executed of a duplicate of the sealed letter. That is considered in support of the contention that that paper was a part of the will. The sealed letter was found with the will. I find that there was no undue influence, but that the sealed letter was not incorporated in the will."

The court further said that he expressed no opinion as to whether the sealed letter which gives $50,000 to Mr. Bryan and his family can be incorporated in the will. "It may be urged," he continued, "that it can be used, but as to that the court has no opinion to express."

Attorneys immediately asked the court if a construction had been placed upon the bequest and the court called their attention to the text of the decision. Afterward, Judge Cleveland said that it was a question whether the probate court had a right to consider the construction of the sealed letter and it was also a question whether the testator intended to frame a question in relation to the matter as to bring it within the province of the probate court to consider it.

Newton, Church and Hewitt, counsel for Mr. Bryan in this city, said in reply to a question that although Mr. Bryan had not yet been informed of the decision, he would undoubtedly decide to enter an appeal from it. The text of the decision includes about 5500 words. In it, the court, after reviewing the case, says: "The testimony of Mr. Dewell, who had known him for a quarter of a century, knows that the testator was a sharp, able business man, a man of decided opinions from which he was not easily turned aside. But whatever presumption, if any, might be abundantly overcome by the evidence of Mr. Bryan testifies that the idea of a bequest in his favor, so far from being suggested by him or Mrs. Bryan, was a complete surprise to both; a statement in which the court has entire confidence in view of Mr. Bryan's frankness on the witness stand and his evident desire to fully disclose all his relations with the testator and all the circumstances surrounding the drafting of the will. It must also be remembered that the testator had ample opportunity to change his will at any time during the last three years of his life and without the knowledge of Mr. Bryan. Mr. Bennett did not in his will forget any of his heirs-at-law, and made ample provision for the support of his wife."

PARKS IS AGAIN SENTENCED TO PRISON

The New York Walking Delegate Given Two Years and Three Months in Sing Sing.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Sam Parks, the notorious walking delegate, was today sentenced to two years and three months in Sing Sing prison. This sentence was passed on the charge of extorting $500 from the Tiffany studios.

Parks is already under sentence to state's prison for a similar offense. It was alleged that Parks, as walking delegate of the Housewives and Bridge-men's union, forced the Tiffany studios to pay him $500 to call off a strike. This was Parks' second sentence for extortion. In the first he was released from Sing Sing on a certificate of reasonable doubt. In imposing sentence today Judge Newburger said he took into consideration the physical condition of Parks, who is said by physicians to be suffering from consumption in an advanced stage.

Parks, whose customary air of defiance has entirely deserted him, heard the sentence without a movement of feature or outward suggestion of emotion. Former District Attorney James W. Osborne, Parks' counsel, said that he would in all probability appeal, but that no certificate of reasonable doubt would be applied for.

GARBAGE HAULED BY TROLLEY

Health Commissioner Recommends That City Build Incinerators, but Retain the Contract System.

In his personal recommendations, the result of his tour with the sanitary commission, Health Commissioner John H. Simon recommends that the city continue garbage reduction by the contract system, but that two incinerator plants be added to the equipment as municipal property. The reduction plan is to be used for garbage only, while the incinerators are to be used for inflammable refuse. He recommends that the city collect all garbage daily, and that householders be required to sort all refuse.

Street car lines are recommended as a means of conveying the collected garbage from downtown districts to outlying disposal plants. Tell your sweetheart about the Boomer Special $3 and extra quality $3.50 shoes for men. 410 North Broadway.

The Best City in America

Every great municipality has croakers and alarmists—St. Louis is no exception. But conditions here offer no excuse for them to practice their profession. St. Louis, without a question of a doubt, is the best city in America today. We always thought so. We know it. Since this store began business a little over a year ago, our faith has grown into absolute confidence. We gave to St. Louis a great, modern clothing store for men and boys—we have received in that time, we believe, the largest patronage ever accorded a new store anywhere. Our business this fall is almost doubling that of a year ago. What more convincing evidence of the city's prosperity, and that The Model is filling to the letter its promises to the people?

Men's and Youths' Overcoats.

LIGHT CARRIED INTO ROOM FULL OF GAS

George Anweiler of 1819 Warren street is thought to be fatally burned, and John Urwin of 1235 South Sixth street will carry scars for life as the result of an explosion of gas in the generating room of Station A of the Laclede Gas Co. at Second and Convent streets. Tom Noonan was slightly burned in the same accident, and was taken to his home, 324 Rutger street. A slight explosion had occurred in the generating room, and the men were sent there to find the leak. They saw lights burning in the room and entered carrying lights. An explosion of sufficient force to shatter all the windows followed their entrance and they rushed to the stairway with clothing in flames. Anweiler was carried to the lower floor and thrown into a tub of water. Urwin, with Urwin, was sent to the City Hospital. The fire department was called to put out the flames that started in many parts of the building.

HUSBAND SNEERS AT WIFE'S TEARS

Pleading Letter of Deserted Bride Brings Brief and Taunting Note in Reply.

ADRIFF IN A STRANGE CITY

Was Almost Driven to Suicide by Jeering Replies to Her Letters—Not Married Three Months.

The pleading letters of a wife and the almost audible sneers of a husband who deserted her after less than three months of married life, gave a tinge of pathos to the divorce "Bargain Day" in the circuit court. Seldom have judge, attaches and spectators been moved as they were in the case of Mrs. Harriet Gray, stenographer to the Daves Indian Territory commission, who is suing her absent husband, Calvin M. Gray, for divorce.

A young woman of marked beauty, education and refinement, she told on the witness stand of being turned adrift in a strange city almost penniless, and of her determination to commit suicide, and how she later composed herself sufficiently to send to her husband an appeal for his return.

She told with trembling lips of the jeering reply that she received to her entreaties. She was informed that she could "see her loving husband at Bingen on the Rhine."

A copy of her last letter follows. Its return was accompanied with the taunt.

IMPULSE TO SUICIDE.

LITTLE ROCK, Sept. 11, 1901. To My Husband: When I first reached here after that dreary and distressing parting with you, I was driven to take refuge in silence rather than in letter writing. After spending a week in almost total isolation, however, I think I am now sufficiently composed to write a letter which you will see as you read it is the composition of a rational woman. When we parted last Sunday at Alexandria I could see but one ending to the intense misery and suffering which seemed greater than I could bear; you know what that was.

Gradually, as the train rolled on, the reflection that it was in my power to put a speedy end to my unhappy existence seemed to be to me the only bright spot that was not obscured. On reaching Little Rock I made hasty preparations for the end, but, strange to say, the very making of these preparations brought about a realization of the awful leap I was about to take, and the time I reached here, my reason, already nearly overthrown, reasserted itself, and I put behind me all time, trust, all intentions of doing violence to myself.

The kindly, cheerful and respectable welcome I received here in this house from people who might be said to be almost strangers to me, lessened my despair. But even now I scarcely dare to recall the thought of that day, when I stood by myself, alone, sitting at the east window of our room and vacantly staring at the heavens, remembering that it came to me again and again that I was the last of a race, and that I should by any act of mine bring grief and shame to an aged mother, who, in her love and devotion, had been her unfailing love and I then became more heartily ashamed that I had entertained such rash purposes.

HER GRIEF NOT FEIGNED.

It strengthened me to reflect that, however fearful the wrong done me, it was not for me to be untrue to my mother or myself. My grief, therefore, became stronger than ever to continue with all my power to do right in the future, as I have always done in the past.

The tears which you saw and of which you spoke so lightly were not voluntary, neither were they shed for the purpose of moving your heart, which has grown so cold, and may be a weakness of which I ought to be ashamed to tell you that I was shed for grief and torture I experienced in being forced to leave my husband, whom I loved and dearly and from whom separation seemed more than I could bear.

The life I led before my marriage, which you know was a life of honest toil and work, was not a life of misery and wretchedness such as you have condemned me to for there appears before me nothing but darkness and gloom, and I have lost all hope and faith in life. For a time I desire to keep secret the fact that you have deserted me, at least until those that are near and dear to me at home shall have forgotten me, but I have decided to tell you that I thought a most delightful visit to you.

I have carefully gone over all that has transpired between us since we were married, and I know that I have done no wrong to my husband in the smallest particular. I have been true to him in thought; I have been true to him in heart; I have been true to him in deed. I do know that you must feel that when you married me you did so with the purpose of being a true and loving husband to me. Before we parted on Sept. 4, you never gave me any reason to think otherwise, yet on the very next day after you parted with me at the station, you wrote me a letter which was intended to make me know that all was at an end between us. Being a true and devoted wife, I went to Alexandria and besought you to inform me of the reasons for your conduct, and you know that you absolutely refused to explain anything.

WOULD REFUTE SLANDERS.

Now if it be true that I have conducted myself as your true and loving wife, and no one knows better than you, I certainly have, and if it be true that you married me with the purpose of being a true and loving husband to me, and you certainly have, I can only draw the conclusion that your conduct, and that is that you have cast out your lawful wife because of some false and malicious charges against me that have come to you from some source. I did not know that I had an enemy in the world, and cannot conceive of any motive anyone would have in defaming me.

If such be the case I beg to ask you whether or not you have ever seriously considered with what gross injustice you are treating me when you do this, and give me no opportunity of absolutely proving to you that there is no truth in anything that has been said to my discredit.

You not only give me no opportunity of defending myself, but you deny me the poor privilege of knowing that I have offended or how it is rumored I have offended.

STILL HOPES FOR REUNION.

Can it be possible that you so lightly regard the marriage estate; is conscience so dead in you that you feel at liberty to cast me out and give me no chance to arise before you in the dark and dreary hours of the night, a sudden thought that you have been guilty of hope and happiness?

POPE RECEIVES FAIR INVITATION

W. E. Curtis Urges Him to Send Distinguished Representative and Vatican Exhibit to St. Louis.

ROME, Nov. 6.—William E. Curtis, a newspaper correspondent, was received in private audience by the Pope at the Vatican and extended to him an invitation to the celebration of the Holy See to the St. Louis exposition, besides an exhibit of the treasures of the Vatican.

The Pope, in reply, said he was greatly pleased by the compliment paid him and added that he would do all possible to comply with the requests contained in the invitation, but that he would not exhibit and send a representative to St. Louis. He said:

"I accept the invitation with gratitude and charge you to express our appreciation of the thoughtfulness of the Holy See among the other nations invited."

whose every word and thought was quick with love and loyalty to her husband; that is to say, that I let that I beg that you will think exactly and seriously while there is yet time.

I moved your trunk key and letter; about sending your trunk, I have not packed it and trust it will not be necessary; that is to say, that I let take care of it at least until you come to Little Rock to get it.

My earnest prayer is that you live, that we both live, to see this great wrong me rectified. To this end I desire a personal interview as soon as possible. You need fear no tears or scenes; you own the woman who bears your name, who has never wronged you in word, thought or deed, before or after marriage. I owe her an explanation as to the wrong and pain you are doing her, and that she be given promptly an opportunity to defend herself.

Should I come to you, will you come to me? I am still waiting a reply. I am still your devoted wife. HARRIET.

The Grays were married in Grand Junction, Colo., June 22, 1891. They had been acquainted for seven years, having first met at the bride's home in Chicago.

Gray followed Miss W. Curtis when she went on her summer vacation in 1901 and prevailed upon her to marry him at once.

Within ten weeks Mr. Gray left his bride without explanation. All efforts to locate him have proved fruitless. Mrs. Gray is now living temporarily at 208 Locust avenue. Judge Fisher took the petition for divorce under advisement. He is in doubt as to the legal residence in St. Louis of Mrs. Gray, who has been in the government service for some time, and asked that briefs be submitted.

DYNAMITE MYSTERY IS SOLVED

For Three Months a Great Railroad Has Been Terrorized by a Gang of Dynamiters.

For three months the largest railroad in the country has been terrorized by a gang of dynamiters whose demands for ransom were not complied with. The railroad company displayed white flags on its trains, and the dynamiters desecrated that their demand for $50,000 was to be granted, and then armed its engines and patrolled its tracks and bridges, but the criminals seemed to be able to strike the company with dynamite when and where they chose and to be immune from detection.

Day after day and week after week the outrages continued. A score of armed patrolmen, six packs of bloodhounds and an army of trackwalkers were on guard night and day, but they had a thousand miles of track to watch and it ran through the wild and unsettled parts of the United States and for two months they were baffled at every turn.

The mystery has been solved. The whole story will be told in the Sunday Post-Dispatch.

STONE SEEKS TO AMEND.

Files Motion to Strike Out Most of the Chrisman Allegations.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 6.—Senator Wm. J. Stone filed in the circuit court today a motion to strike out most of the allegations made by Geo. L. Chrisman in the suit brought by Stone against Chrisman to recover $100,000 which Stone alleges he invested in the Old Kentucky Times under a wrong presentation of the conditions of that paper as made by Chrisman.

Judge Chrisman alleges that the $100,000 was not Stone's money, but was contributed to him by the baking powder trust and other corporations, and that Stone had lobbied for these corporations and was their legislative agent.

Stone asks the court to strike out all these allegations upon the ground that he has no right to raise the question at issue, and if left in the case they would compel Stone to try extraneous issues.

WOMAN CONVICT'S HOARD.
Mrs. Murphy Must Leave $2875 Outside the Penitentiary.
When Mrs. Murphy was searched in the matron's room at the Four Courts preparatory to her removal to the jail, to be held for the Federal officers, $2875

was found concealed in her waist.
Mrs. Murphy was convicted of sending improper literature through the mails. She appealed, hoping to escape her sentence of two years in the penitentiary. The United States Court of Appeals affirmed the sentence, and she was rearrested.

BLAIR MUST TELL COURT HIS STORY

Oath Will Not Be Imposed on Him in Taking Statement Regarding Insurance.

BLAIR CHARGES TO BE TRIED IN THE FEDERAL COURT!

An attorney versed in insurance law says that if Blair should consent to the effect to cancel his policies that a trial of the charges made against him will result in the federal court and that the company will have to substantiate every allegation to wit:
Blair is required to appear in court not later than Dec. 1, in person or by attorney; will then be allowed until Feb. 1 to file his answer; the company in turn will have a month to file an amended petition, and the taking of testimony would not begin until about March 1.
Blair's refusal to accept the company's direct offer to refund premiums is indicative of his intention to fight in court.

James L. Blair, who is now ill at his beautiful country home, "Stancote," near Kirkwood, will appear in the United States Circuit Court at some time before Dec. 1 to make answer to the proceedings brought against him, as told in Thursday's Post-Dispatch, by the Mutual Life Insurance Co. of New York, asking the court to cancel two insurance policies, aggregating $250,- 000, issued by that company on the life of Mr. Blair.

According to a request specifically stated in the court proceedings, Mr. Blair will make this answer without taking oath.

In filing his two suits, one relative to a $50,000 policy and the other relative to a $200,000 policy, the insurance company delivered into the hands of the court the sum of $23,064.01, which, deducting a loan of $4846, represents the amount of the premiums Blair has paid, with interest. The company asks that upon the cancellation of his policies this sum be turned over to Blair.

The defendants to the suit on the $50,000 policy, which was issued April 23, 1896, are James L. Blair and Mrs. Blair, and Mrs.
Blair and their sons, Percy A. and Francis C. Blair, are defendants to the suit on the $200,000 policy, which was issued Jan. 23, 1902.

The Mutual company sets forth in its petition that for the past 10 years Mr. Blair as its confidential counsel, had enjoyed the highest confidence of the company, and that he violated his trust. The company states the belief that at the time Blair made application for his policy in 1896 he was heavily in debt and insolvent, that he knew this to be the case, and that for two years previous to that time he was continuously guilty of forgery and embezzlement to the amount of $20,000, all of which facts he concealed from the company.

The company states "upon information and belief" that at the time of his 1896 application Blair, knowing himself to be a forger, embezzler and debtor, intended, should he be exposed and thus ruined, to commit suicide and thus defraud
the company of the amount of his policy.
The petition then declares that, since the discovery of his crimes, Blair has twice attempted suicide, to wit, on Oct. 15 and Oct. 21.

The allegations in the suit on the $200,000 policy are practically the same as those on the smaller policy.
Blair is believed to hold life insurance policies aggregating about $1,000,000.
It was said at "Stancote" Friday that Mr. Blair was slightly improved in health, being able to sit up, but not able to leave his room.

MRS. BLAIR POSTPONES LADY MANAGERS' MEETING.

Mrs. James L. Blair, president of the board of lady managers of the World's Fair, has announced the postponement of the next meeting of the board to Dec. 15, one month later than the original date.

Notice of the change of time has been sent to the different members of the board.
Mrs. Blair's reason for postponing the meeting at a later date is the illness of her husband, as stated by Miss Sheets,
Mrs. Blair's private secretary.

Mrs. Blair is denying herself to all callers, even her most intimate friends, and is constantly at the bedside of her husband.

"Mrs. Blair's only thought at present is for her husband's recovery," said Miss Sheets. "She will give no attention to her own interests until Mr. Blair has at least partially recovered. This is likely to take some little time, as Mr. Blair is still very ill. Mr. Blair's condition is really much worse than has been generally assumed."

"There have been only occasional days when Mr. Blair has left his bed, and then he had to be lifted into a chair. He is inable to bear the slightest weight on his sprained foot."

The large daily mail received by Mrs.
Blair in her official capacity as president of the board of lady managers, as well as that relating to many other interests both in St. Louis and elsewhere, is attended to almost wholly by Miss Sheets.

ROBERTS TESTIFIES: DICK & GRAHAM ARE SILENT.

E. S. Robert, who was co-trustee with James L. Blair of the Blair estate, while before the grand jury Thursday afternoon, told that body it is understood, that he had returned to Blair all the papers he lating to the administration of that estate.
Circuit Attorney Folk said Friday morning that he had not received a reply to his letters to Messrs. Dick and Graham, connected with the firm of Dick, Brown &
Co., invited them to appear as witnesses before the grand jury.

Mr. Folk said that in the event that the two men were summoned to appear before the United States circuit court to testify in regard to the charges made by the insurance company, which is suing for a cancellation of the Blair life insurance policies, he would probably have them subpoenaed as grand jury witnesses.

CUPID VANQUISHES ALL.

Mrs. Margaret Trokesch Janski is a happy bride at 1219 Lami street Friday. She and her husband, Andrew Janski are living with the young woman's parents.
Mr. and Mrs. John J. Trokesch.

Mrs. Janski's courtship was a case of misfortune brought about in her wedding on schedule time at St. John of Nepomuk's Church Thursday morning at 10 o'clock.
A street car wreck and a lost dispensation were not serious obstacles in her path toward joy.

Mr. Janski is a Protestant. His brideis a Catholic. Wednesday morning Mrs.
Trokesch went to the residence of the archbishop and secured a dispensation for her marriage. She returned downtown on an Olive street car. At Twelfth and Olive streets this car and Cherokee car crashed in collision. The engine carried in Mrs.
Trokesch's hand, containing the much-prized dispensation, was lost in the mixup.
The young bride-to-be, with only one day between her and the altar, did not discover her loss until she reached home.
She is returned to the archbishop and a valid copy of the document.

Thousands of Women Restored To Health by Swamp-Root

Women as well as Men Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It.

WOMEN suffer untold misery because the nature of their disease is not always correctly understood; in many cases when doctoring, they are led to believe that womb Root is the most perfect healer and gentle aid to the kidneys that has ever been discovered. Kidneys are the chief cause of their distressing troubles. Perhaps you suffer almost continually with pain in the back, bearing-down feelings, headache and utter exhaustion.

DIDN'T KNOW I HAD KIDNEY TROUBLE

I had tried so many remedies without their having benefited me that I was about discouraged.

MRS. A. L. WALKER

In a few days after taking your wonderful Swamp-Root I began to feel better.
I was out of health and run down generally;
had no appetite, was dizzy and suffered with headache most of the time. I did not know that my kidneys were the cause of my trouble, but somehow felt they might be, and I began taking Swamp-Root, as above stated. There is such a pleasant taste to Swamp-Root and it goes right to the spot and drives disease out of the system.
It has cured me, and I cheerfully recommend it to all sufferers.
Gratefully yours,
MRS. A. L. WALKER,
46 West Linden St., Atlanta, Ga.

THE mild and extraordinary effect of the world-famous kidney and bladder remedy, Swamp-Root, is soon realized.

It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. A trial will convince anyone—and you may have a sample bottle sent free by mail.

In taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root you afford natural help to Nature, for Swamp-Root is the most perfect healer and gentle aid to the kidneys that has ever been discovered. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

YOUR poor health makes you nervous, irritable and at times despondent; but thousands of just such suffering or broken-down women are being restored to health and strength every day by the use of that wonderful discovery, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp- Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

TODAY I AM IN SPLENDID HEALTH.

About 18 months ago I had a very severe attack of grip. I was extremely sick for three weeks, and when I finally was able to leave my

MRS. H. N. WHEELER

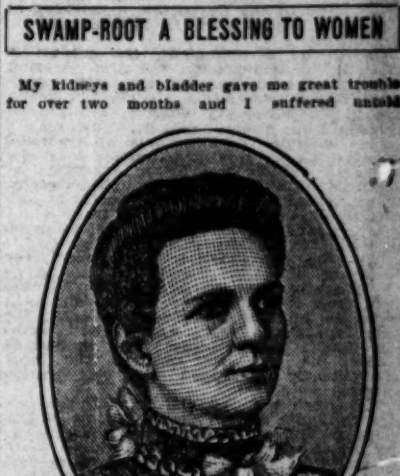

bed I was left with excruciating pains in my back, which convinced me that I had a severe kidney trouble. My physical condition was such that I had no strength and was all run down.
My sister, Mrs. C. E. Littlefield of Lynn, advised me to give Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root a trial.
I procured a bottle and inside of three days commenced to get relief. I followed up that bottle with another, and at the completion of this one found I was completely cured. My strength returned and today I am as well as ever.

My business is that of a nurse. I am on my feet a great deal of the time, and have to use much energy in getting around. My cure is therefore all the more remarkable, and is exceedingly gratifying to me. Sincerely yours,
MRS. H. N. WHEELER,
29 Prospect St., Lynn, Mass.

NOT only does Swamp-Root bring new life and activity to the kidneys, the cause of the trouble, but by treating the kid- neys it acts as a general tonic and food for the entire constitution.

SWAMP-ROOT A BLESSING TO WOMEN

My kidneys and bladder gave me great trouble for over two months and I suffered unusually.

MRS. E. AUSTIN

Misery. I became weak, emaciated and very much run down. I had great difficulty in retaining my urine, and was obliged to pass water very often night and day. After I had used a sample bottle of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, sent me on my request, I experienced relief and I immediately bought of my druggist two large bottles and continued taking it regularly. I am pleased to say that Swamp-Root cured me entirely. I can now stand on my feet all day without any bad symptoms whatever. Swamp-Root has proved a blessing to me.
Gratefully yours,
MRS. E. AUSTIN,
19 Nassau St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

WET FEET AND A COLD

Every rainstorm has its victims. Many a case of consumption and pneumonia can be traced to wet feet and a cold.

A cold seems such a simple affair to many people, yet every case of consumption and pneumonia has its beginning in a "simple" cold.

Those who value their lives should not treat a cold or cough as a simple affair, but use a reliable medicine while it is possible to effect a cure. There is an infallible remedy for colds, coughs, hoarseness, and all throat and lung affections: the celebrated which has saved more lives than the most eminent physicians in the world.

Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup

A "Simple" Cold Which Led To Consumption.

"Three years ago a young friend of mine, John Young, a chairmaker, caught a heavy cold and I wanted him to try Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, but he laughed and said it was only a 'simple cold.' His cough got worse and he died Thanksgiving Day with consumption, and was buried to-day. I have used Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup and think it the best remedy on the market. I always recommend it to my friends. If people would only take it in time, there would not be half of the throat and lung diseases in this world that there are to-day. I cannot speak too highly of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. It should be in every house." E. H. Madden, 810 E. King St., York, Pa.

One Bottle Cured a Bad Cold.

"I suffered a great deal from colds and could not sleep for coughing, and tried nearly every cough syrup there is made. A friend asked me to use Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. I bought a bottle and it cured me of my bad cold. If everyone having a very bad cold would use Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup they would be convinced that it is the best to be had." Harry L. VanVleet, 100 N. Main Street, Paterson, N. J.

It is dangerous to experiment with your health. Do not take the dealer's substitute; it is generally worthless. Ask for and insist on having the old reliable Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, used over 50 years. It is endorsed by physicians as perfectly safe and harmless, and never fails to cure. The genuine package has our trade-mark, a Bull's Head. At druggists, 50c. and $1.00. A. C. Meyer & Co., Sole Agents, Baltimore, Md.

ILLINOIS PLANS SCHOOL EXHIBIT

Elaborate Educational Display Will Be Made at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition.

MENTION EVERY DEPARTMENT

Instructions to City and County Superintendents Will Soon Be Sent Out From Headquarters.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 8.—Prof. Alfred Baylis, state superintendent of public instruction, has completed the plans for the Illinois educational exhibit at the World's Fair, and within the next few days county and city superintendents of schools over the state will be advised regarding the scope of the proposed display. The plans and ideas have been approved by the committee on educational exhibits of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition, consisting of James H. Farrell, W. L. Mounts and H. M. Dunlap.

Under the arrangement, the exhibit is classified in two groups, the first covering elementary education and the other covering secondary education. In the first group are included schools, schools of the Illinois state, and graded schools. The second group includes high schools and normal schools. Under this classification it is desired to exhibit legislation, organization, general statistics, buildings, photographs, plans, models, administrative methods and results obtained by methods of instruction. In his address to school superintendents of the state, Superintendent Baylis said:

"In the classification of exhibits the Louisiana Purchase Exposition has given the place of honor to education. For the first time in the history of expositions a separate building has been set apart for this department. The exhibit will, without doubt, be the largest ever assembled under one roof, as well as the most conveniently arranged for comparative study."

"Fourteen hundred and four square feet are available for the public schools of Illinois, including the state normal schools. As far as possible, in this space, and within the time now remaining, it is desired that the present status of school education shall be shown, and to this end the cooperation of all school officers, superintendents and teachers is cordially invited."

Included in the material of exhibits desired is practically every phase of the subject. Ten separate subdivisions will be made of the country school class, as follows:

1. The design of the best one-room schoolhouse in the county, to include floor plans and method of heating and ventilation.
2. Photographs of 10 of the best one-room school buildings in the county, preferably with pupils and teachers in front of the buildings.
3. Photographs of every school building in 10 or more counties, as above.
4. Photographs of school libraries, museums, pupils at work.
5. Photographs of school libraries, museums, natural history collections, etc.
6. Photographs of school gardens.
7. Manual training work of all kinds.
8. Collections of written work, honestly prepared and intelligently labeled, in volumes arranged by grades, so as to clearly and faithfully illustrate the solid and indispensable work of the school.
9. Freehand drawing, color work, illustrations, map work, etc.
10. A bound collection of circulars, programs of teachers' meetings, school papers and other printed matter used by county superintendents in administrative work.

The classification for high schools is arranged under 10 heads, as follows:

1. A photograph of each and every building in Illinois used exclusively for high school purposes, is earnestly desired.
2. Photographs of physical, chemical and biological laboratories and the assembly rooms are especially desired.
3. Photographs of manual training and household art departments, showing equipment and pupils at work.
4. The school grounds, shown by topographical maps and photographs.
5. School gymnasiums, games and outdoor sports.
6. Printed lists of text-books, libraries and collateral reading lists.
7. Courses of study.
8. A graphic representation of the history of the school, showing number of graduates, their present occupations, the percent of pupils who have gone to college, higher technical or professional schools, and other data tending to illustrate the plans, methods and ideals of the school.
9. Choice specimens of pupils' work in physics, chemistry, biology and manual training.
10. Bound volumes of the written work of pupils, intelligently labeled to show the number of classifications in the same number of classifications for normal schools.

For normal schools, the following are desired:

1. A representative collection of students' written work, with special reference to those forms peculiar to normal schools, as observation notes, lesson plans and the like.
2. A pamphlet for judicious free distribution, to include paragraphs explanatory of the objective of the exhibit, as well as a retrospective view of the school.

Regulations have been established to insure uniformity of exhibits.

METEOR IN YACHT RACES.

BERLIN, Nov. 8.—Emperor William's schooner yacht Meteor will go to the United States in the spring to take part in the seven changes have been ordered in the Meteor's crew, the most important of which is a reduction of her sail area so as to avoid being heavily handicapped. The Meteor was sailed by an all-English crew two seasons ago and was handled by a crew about half English and half German during the races of June last. She will sail in the transatlantic race with an all-German crew.

The emperor's views regarding the advantages of the race, as they have been outlined to naval officers here, are that yachts of the cruiser type are of greater utility than racing models and that the strength of construction, discipline of the crews, varieties of weather and skill in sailing under what may be called service conditions are best tested in a transatlantic race. The Meteor was constructed partially to that end. Emperor William is said to have likened a racing yacht to a race horse, as "no use for everyday pleasure."

IN THE WORLD OF BOOKS AND LITERATURE

HETTY WESLEY.

Grimly entertaining throughout, at times tensely interesting with the mingled melancholy and merriment of a strange family life, is "Hetty Wesley," by Mr. Arthur T. Quiller-Couch, wherein a novel is made of the pitiable fortune and a sister of John Charles Wesley, founder of the Methodist Church.

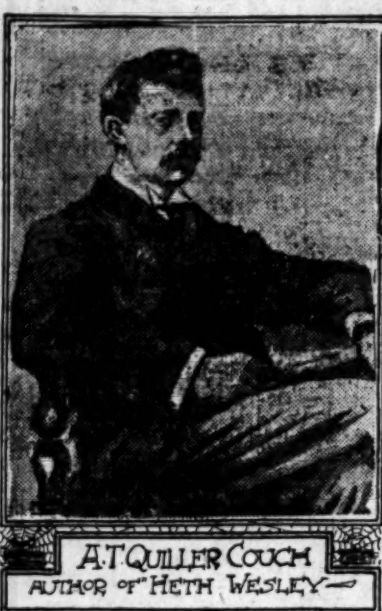

The occasional touch of humor, however, lightens the story but little. Its dominant note is that of unhappy living and of domestic heartbreak. Mr. Quiller-Couch must be credited with drawing a singularly depressing picture of the Wesleys for the contemplation of the world. It seems extremely likely that his latest book will excite a notable discussion calculated to place its author on the defensive.

The tragic figure of poor Hetty Wesley is made to stand forth with startling vividness as that of a daughter's sacrifice to the almost insupportable burden of a reverend father who permitted theological narrow-mindedness to strangle and overcome the most sacred claims of blood. The fall of Hetty, through her betrayal by the man she loved, must be charged almost directly to her father, the Rev. Samuel Wesley, if Mr. Quiller-Couch's version of her story is correct. Her subsequent marital bondage to the drunkard whom she was compelled to wed, with all its accompanying horrors, must also be laid at the same door. The fate of the unhappy girl, indeed, is made to appear as if wrought by a ruthless destiny of which the author of her being was the cruel and saturnine instrument.

Scarcely less pathetic than Hetty is the story of her mother, broken and saddened for life by the strange tyranny of a good man too bigoted to be merciful or even just. Similarly, also, are the lives of Hetty's sisters darkened by this amazing domestic autocracy. That John and Charles Wesley escaped the blight of the Rev. Samuel's paternal harshness only from the fact that they were of more resistant temper and, also, that, being sons instead of daughters, they were held in higher regard by their astonishing father.

It is unhappily the case that when one has finished the reading of "Hetty Wesley," a sinister indictment of the Rev. Samuel Wesley seems to have been returned. He stands charged with the destruction of his family's happiness in this life. Yet, as drawn by Mr. Quiller-Couch in a dramatic contrast of psychological inconsistencies, he is a righteous and God-fearing man, striving for human good, fearless in opposing evil, devoted in the cure of souls. There seems to be a call for pity in contemplating a man so inherently sound in fiber and yet so gnarled and twisted and deformed by luckless temperament. He has finished the reading of "Hetty Wesley" did not purpose that the Rev. Samuel Wesley should become the overbearing character in the story, but the deplorable fact remains that the reader cannot get away from him nor put him out of mind. There are some vital and significant flashlights pictures of the two great evangelists, John and Charles, and some amusing as well as almost heartbreaking scenes of daily life in the extremely human and unhappy Wesley home, but always the somber chill of the Rev. Samuel Wesley's personality is on the story. Yet there are moments, too, when we can reverse and almost love the hard old man for his personal unselfishness and devotion to his sacred calling.

It is a curious story, this "Hetty Wesley." It does not make happy reading. As a blending of fact and fiction, readers must determine to their own satisfaction.

ARTHUR T. QUILLER-COUCH
AUTHOR OF "HETTY WESLEY"

If Mr. Quiller-Couch has properly deferred to ascertainable truth in doing his work. As a novel simply, it is profoundly interesting in despite of certain artistic blemishes that should not have been possible to a story teller of Mr. Quiller-Couch's training and practice—namely the utterly inconsequential incident of the Annesley disappearance, which has absolutely no dramatic bearing upon the story and gives it an aggravating misleading start. "Hetty Wesley" will be widely read. It is a tragedy of temperament and environment, as told by its author. (Macmillan Co., New York. For sale by St. Louis News Co.)

SONGS OF WOMEN.

A valuable, as well as very attractive, volume is "Songs From the Hearts of Women," compiled by Nicholas Smith, author of "Hymns Historically Famous" and other similar books. In this volume, preceded by a brief biography and accounts of how they came to be written, are hymns—most of them "familiar as the light"—which have sprung from the hearts of more than one hundred women, from the days of Anne Steele, the celebrated English woman, to the present. Included in the list are such noted names as Sarah Flower Adams, author of "Nearer, My God, to Thee," Charlotte Elliott, author of "Just as I Am, Without One Plea," Margaret Mackay, who wrote "Asleep in Jesus, Blessed Sleep," sung at so many thousands of funerals, to say nothing of such names as those of Mrs. Barbara M. Sigourney, Mrs. Hemans, Phoebe Cary, Mrs. Browning, Caroline Noel, Julia Ward Howe, Frances Ridley Havergal, Fanny J. Crosby and many others. This book is a gem in its way. (A. C. McClurg & Co., Chicago; 271 pages; gilt top, $1.50.)

FOR STUDENTS OF MEXICO.

Readers interested in the history of Mexico, particularly modern Mexico, will find much of value in "From Empire to Republic: the Story of the Struggle for Constitutional Government in Mexico," by Prof. Arthur Howard Noll of the University of the South, a volume of 236 pages besides an index; $1.40 net. Those who care more for a succinct account of the history of the land to the southward will find it in "A Short History of Mexico" (317 pages, $2.00 net), by the same author. Both books are published by A. C. McClurg & Co., Chicago.

ALONG THE OHIO.

"On the Storied Ohio" is the title of a volume by Reuben Gold Thwaites, which is a historical account of a pilgrimage of 100 miles in a skiff from Redstone, above Pittsburg, down the Ohio river to its mouth at Cairo, Ill. The author explains that, although this volume was published six years ago under the name of "Afloat on the Ohio," it has been revised and is now, in fact, it is not the same book. It is a true record of scenes and customs existing along that beautiful stream, as those familiar with them will readily admit. All illustrations are from photographs; 228 pages. (A. C. McClurg & Co., Chicago.)

CHURCH HISTORY.

Third in the series, "The Story of the Churches," is "The Methodists," by John Alfred Faulkner, D. D., professor of historical theology in Drew Theological Seminary. The aim of this series is to furnish a uniform set of church histories, brief, but complete, and designed to instruct the average church member in the origin, history and development of the various denominations. The volumes already issued are "The Baptists" and "The Presbyterians." "The Congregationalists" will follow. "The Methodists" contains 228 pages; $2.00 net; postage, 5c. (The Baker & Taylor Co., New York, Union Square.)

SOME CHILDREN'S BOOKS.

"In Childhood Land," by Margaret Page, illustrated by Katharine H. Greenland (The Seaford Publishing Co., Akron, O.), is a book for quite little people, being made up of dainty poems, quaintly illustrated in color. For rainy days or bed time, mother or nurse will find it of great service in keeping the baby folks pleased.

"Dickon Bend the Bow," and Other Tales," by Everett McNeil, with pictures by Rob. Wagner (The Seaford Publishing Co., Akron, O.), is a book for quite little people, being made up of dainty poems, quaintly illustrated in color. For rainy days or bed time, mother or nurse will find it of great service in keeping the baby folks pleased.

"A Bunch of Keys," by Margaret Johnson, illustrated by Jessie Walcott (New York: E. P. Dutton & Co.), is a largely comic, but not less interesting, book, constructed to give the child mind pleasant employment. It contains a number of full-page illustrations, and although in black and white, the art work is so excellent that one does not miss the colors that are common in these new books. "A Bunch of Keys" has an unusually attractive cover design.

By taking the fore part of an animal and attaching it to the hind part of another, Alice Brown and Louise Clarke have made a book of "The Merrylinks" (McClure, Phillips & Co., New York). The creatures so formed are grotesque in the extreme, Miss Clarke, as artist, having carried out the intention of Miss Brown, the Merrylinks' biographer, with spirit and skill. The Merrylinks are nightmares, but not alarming ones. They will make the children cheer up, when something of a more serious character might not do so.

Novels of university life are becoming numerous of late. "The Tutor," by Herbert M. Hopkins (Bobbs-Merrill Co., Indianapolis), being the most recent in the list. This is a fairly interesting story, in which the conflict of university ideals, the old dignity and the new "hustle," figures in dramatic manner. A money-getting president is the dominating character, and two or three coincident love-stories furnish the romantic element. Again, however, this latest "university novel" is depressing in its effect upon the reader's mind. Is it so true that much learning saddens the soul of man?

Harris Dickson, who told a rattling good story in "The Black Wolf's Breed" several years ago, now tells a better in "She That Hides," the heroine of which, married to the Carewiteh Alexia, son of Peter the Great of Russia, loves and is loved by one D'Aurant, a French soldier of fortune. As may be imagined, such a situation promises material for any number of stirring incidents and the action goes with a rush from start to finish. Saxony, Germany and Russia furnish its European scenes, but the romance reaches its end in the French settlement of New Orleans in the new world. It's a swash-buckling tale, full of dash and color, and with some very pretty sentiment to commend it to the reader's favor (Bobbs-Merrill Co., Indianapolis.)

In "The Strife of the Sea" (Baker & Taylor Co., New York) we have a volume of short stories by T. Jenkins Hains, in which the denizens of old ocean largely figure as the central dramatic characters. Anything that Mr. Hains writes has a refreshing smack of "briny," and is sure to possess the story element, a truth to which the present books bears witness. The stories are good to read and add to the reputation of their author as a spinner of yarns.

"The Boss," a story of American municipal politics, "written from the inside," by Alfred Henry Lewis (A. S. Barnes & Co., New York), is a dramatic and significant recital. It evidently has for its foundation the conditions and characters found in New York's municipal life and should receive considerable attention at this time. Mr. Lewis tells a good story always, but his peculiar literary affectations are even more pronounced in this than in preceding books of his authorship.

WILSHIRE'S MAGAZINE FOR NOVEMBER.

The November number of Wilshire's Magazine comes out in a new and artistic dress of superior quality and design. The new cover is highly attractive and the result of the most pleasing. "Munich—A Prophecy," is a superbly illustrated article, holding up that city of magnificent public buildings and parks as an intimation of what our cities will be like when our people give more attention to the public welfare and less to individual gain at the expense of others. The romantic love story of the statesman and orator, Ferdinand Lassalle, who founded the German Socialist Party, and lost his life in a duel on account of the beautiful and fascinating Princess Racowitz, is recounted, with its happy sequel to the fair Princess. "Chamberlain's Resignation" and "Can Capitalism Be Prolonged" are discussed popularly and philosophically with the skill of an artist. There is an article on Gorky, the most recent contribution of Russia to the list of literary geniuses, and one on "Rest," by Dr. Winslow Hall, setting forth the urgent necessity for rest, and various means of attaining it, which are not in these days, within the reach of every human being.

THE SCAPE GOAT DISCOVERED

The Rev. I. H. Hicks, who is the only accredited prophet having honor in his own country, says that we are to have more "disturbances" as a result of the sun-spots, of which he has discovered four new ones. The nature of these disturbances Dr. Hicks does not describe in detail, but we are led to believe that they will be social as well as meteorological. At any rate we are thankful to Rev. Hicks for giving us something whereon to lay the blame for any disturbances that may hereafter mar our serenity.

There is no doubt that the sun spots were responsible for much of the crooked-developed in high places, and also for many other of the sensations we have recently experienced. We have no natural inclination to embezzle, but those accursed sun spots have an irresistible influence for evil, and who could withstand the forces of solar energy? Gentlemen of unquestioned moral worth who have recently developed a penchant for staying out late at night, and falling over their own front fences in the early morning, are not individually responsible for the Japanese sun spots, are to blame. If the garbage isn't collected regularly, do not abuse the driver of the swill-wagons, or Ed Butler; the sun spots made them forgetful. In short the sun spots afford an excuse for any of the shortcomings of which we may be guilty, and instead of being regarded in the light of a calamity, they deserve praise at the hands of all who go astray. They make all-round excuses we have at our disposal.

Lives of great men all remind us — Kelly, Kratz and John A. Lee — We must some day leave behind us Footprints that a sleuth will see.

Kratz has secured another franchise in Mexico. Wonder if he had to pay for it, or if the Mexican legislators recognize the "profess!"

"YELLOW KID" MAKES TROUBLE

Mr. Crawford's Leader in a Tandem Event Starts a South American Revolution in the Arena.

FRIDAY EVENING AT THE HORSE SHOW.

Trotting pair of mares or geldings from private stables.
Tandem, horses alone to be considered.
High-school horse, suitable for a gig.
Single delivery horse.
Four-in-hand park team.
Hunters or jumpers to negotiate a 5-foot jump.
Potato race, with six entries.

Society night will be celebrated at the horse show by the appearance of the Chinese and Brazilian commissioners to the World's Fair, with their retinues, by well-filled boxes of beautifully gowned women, and by the first public appearance of Morocco, the Barbary steed presented to President Francis by the Sultan of Morocco.

It is expected that the show features of the evening will be superior to any that have preceded.

The caprices of G. Lacy Crawford's Yellow Kid, a small animal which was by mistake placed as a leader in a tandem event, furnished the chief excitement of Thursday evening at the horse show. The Kid insisted on doing everything backward and showed unusual skill in getting himself talked up with the harness, with the drivers, the judges and the other horses. He disorganized the entire ring, and was succeeding in creating an insurrection that would have shone with a splendor almost equal to that of the little affair down on the isthmus had he not been ignominiously taken out of the arena.

Busch and Aull

Prominent Winners.

Robert Aull and Gus Busch took two blue ribbons each during the evening. Mr. Aull's Commander Baker showed superior to anything in his class, and Mr. Busch had an easy win with his harness pair and appointments. The results at the evening show were:

WASHINGTON'S MANAGER DECLARES THE TEAM CAN WIN FROM TIGERS

Offense of Local Team Is Greatly Improved but General Opinion Is That Goal Kicking Alone Can Give Myrtle and Maroon a Victory.

Washington 'Varsity's last workout before the game of the season here—that with the Missouri Tigers—will be held this afternoon at League Park.

The men have been hard driven all week and only signals will be run through with. If Washington does not win from Missouri tomorrow it will have no excuses to make. Every player on the eleven reported in perfect shape after yesterday's scrimmage work.

The eleven is right on edge and every man, with the possible exception of Heuman, is thoroughly trained to hard work. Heuman has had only ten days' training, but played all through the Rolla game after being out but two days. He will therefore probably be able to stick it out Saturday.

Boynston was especially pleased with the spirit, speed and dash shown by his players in practice. If the eleven can keep its speed for the game tomorrow it will show the Tigers a thing or two in the fast mail line.

Boynston has been working out his fancy plays especially for Missouri this week and a few departures from the strictly straight football played by Washington heretofore may be expected in Saturday's game.

Dr. Wayne Smith, graduate manager of the myrtle and maroon team, said this morning that he considered Washington as having a chance to win.

"Certainly," he said, "we will hold the Tigers down, and if we can get Tolson anywhere near their goal look out for trouble. Tolson has been dropping goals from the field at 55 yards in practice."

"You know what that means in a game. Missouri will have a tough time. Our defense, just as Wisconsin did with Chicago, and if we plant two goals from the field we will come close to winning the contest."

Offense Has Been Greatly Improved.

"Chicago beat Wisconsin that way. We are not relying on Tolson entirely, by any means. Our offense has improved in great style and the interference of the backs is much better. They will not stop Smith."

ATHLETIC MEET TO BE POSTPONED

Big Contest to Be Held at Coliseum
Will Probably Be Delayed
Until February.

A meeting of the committee on athletics of the Missouri Athletic Club will be held next Tuesday night to consider the question of postponing the big indoor athletic championships, which were scheduled to take place at the Exposition Coliseum Dec. 18.

The officers of the club have received so many requests for postponement that the matter will be taken up and discussed Tuesday.

Secretary Genslinger said the general feeling among club members was that the affair should be postponed.

Among those who submitted an opinion favorable to postponement is President Linger of the Central Division, A. U. Mr. Linger stated that December was an unsuitable time, as the football season was barely over, and the athletes had not gotten down to track training. He suggested February as a better time for the championships.

Many communications along similar lines have been received from out-of-town entries.

The meeting is the most important one ever contemplated in the west, and the Missouri Athletic Club is anxious to see it a success. Nearly every college and school in the country will be represented by track teams, and the event will be the A. U. championships. The meeting will last three days.

It is considered almost certain that the events will be postponed until February.

Eastern College Champions Coming.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—The intercollegiate gymnastic Association has decided that the intercollegiate champions in the seven different competitions to be held at Princeton on March 25 should be sent to the St. Louis World's Fair to represent the United States. Yale, Harvard, Princeton, Cornell, Columbia, Pennsylvania, New York and Rutgers were represented.

JEFFRIES OFFERED A $20,000 PURSE

San Francisco Fight Club Wants the Champion to Meet Jack Johnson.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 6.—Although Champion Jim Jeffries has repeatedly stated that he would never fight a colored man, the sporting men of San Francisco are trying to induce the big brawler to change his mind and consent to take on Jack Johnson, the colored heavyweight champion, who recently defeated Sam McVey, the California colored fighter.

Realizing that the followers of the sport in California are anxious to see Jeff and Johnson come together the matchmaker of the Colma, A. C. has offered the two a big purse of $20,000 to battle for in a 20-round bout with four months.

While this offer is a good one, there is no doubt that Jeffries will decline it. He has already stated he would never fight a negro, and there is a very slim chance of the big colored fighter ever getting the opportunity of fighting for the heavyweight title.

ADAMSON WILL NOT MEET LUTTBEG TONIGHT

Ed Adamson, the middle weight wrestler, who meets George Baptiste next Thursday evening at the West End Club's will, however, will not meet Max Luttbeg at a local theater tonight as announced.

Adamson's contract with President Houghton and Baptiste expressly forbids him to engage in any other bout prior to his meeting with the Greek. Adamson's manager says his protegee would run no risk of strain or possible injury by trying out Luttbeg.

Fred Doerr, the light weight wrestler, who last year won the Ave-hour match from Mike Christ at the Columbian Athletic Club, will be put on against Luttbeg in Adamson's place.

Former Champion Says He Will Make
150 Pounds for T. Ryan
Later.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 6.—"If Tommy Ryan thinks I can't make the 155-pound limit, let him post $5000 as a weight forfeit and I'll be there the next day on the hour. I'm in the game now until I'm beaten, and all these middleweights must show up or get back off the line."

"Yes, I'll train hard for Gardner and do all that is possible to help me win out. I have wired Jack Root in Chicago, asking him to come out and help me in my work. Jack is a nice fellow and knows Gardner's fighting style well."

OVERCOATS

Medium or heavy weight overcoats, whichever you think you need. And as fine as can be made. The stock is complete and comprises all the newest styles and fabrics.

The most popular are the Chesterfield, the Swagger—with the belt if you like—and the Paletot. In Oxford, blacks and fancy Scotch mixtures, $12 to $45.

OVERCOATS for the BOYS, in all the newest shapes and beautiful fabrics and colors—and for ages 3 to 18.

NEW HATS.

The conservative and staple Alpines are increasing in favor for Semi-Dress. The low-crown, wide-brim effects are the rage for outing purposes. Many colors that are new and in all proportions. Also all the new shapes in Silk Hats.

HYGIENIC UNDERWEAR.

Double windows do not keep the house warm. It is the air between the windows that makes a cushion against the outer cold.

Pure Wool Underwear throws a cushion of air about the body and keeps the cold and dampness out, and keeps the warmth in.

We have it in unshrinkable qualities.

SMALL BOYS' SUITS.

We've all the variety that any one could ask for, and in well-made and trustworthy goods.

Two-piece and three-piece Suits, in a good assortment of fancy chevrons, Scotch mixtures and plain blacks and blues. They're the kind of Suits your boy would like and would appreciate. $3.50 to $12.00.

We make our Boys' Clothes as nearly as we can like the Men's Suits.

Brokaw Suits and Overcoats

Are unmatched. They are the best ready-to-wear clothes in the world. Made of the choicest materials, by the most skilled tailors, distinctive in style and moderate in price. If you need a suit or overcoat tomorrow you will do well to call and critically examine our line of Brokaw garments. We're sole agents in St. Louis.....

Seconds in Men's Stiff and Soft Hats.

These Hats were made up from bodies intended for $2.50 and $3.00 hats, but were thrown out by the inspectors because of some slight defect in the felting or finishing. The defects do not affect the wear or the appearance of the hats, and you will find the value one of the best we have ever offered you. The soft hats are in black, pearl and other colors. The stiff hats in black only. The shapes are correct copies of Knox, Stetson and Dunlap. Saturday, as long as they last.....
